California State University, Bakersfield

Centrally located on a 375-acre site in the southern San Joaquin Valley, California State University, Bakersfield (CSUB), is a continuously growing comprehensive regional university that is committed to transforming the lives of its students and community through its established excellence in academia, diversity, service, and community engagement since its founding in 1965.

The faculty across this Western Association of Schools and Colleges (WASC) fully accredited University is world-class, with nearly 75% holding terminal degrees in their respective fields. A NCAA Division I school, CSUB has competed successfully in the Western Athletic Conference (WAC) since 2012. The University serves more than 8,700 students at either the main campus in Bakersfield or CSUB – Antelope Valley, and counts more than 40,000 alumni from its four schools: Arts and Humanities, Business and Public Administration, Natural Sciences, Mathematics and Engineering, and Social Sciences and Education.

The University offers undergraduate, graduate, post-graduate and credential programs, and CSUB's Extended University serves the community by offering additional professional development, certificate, and degree programs. With over 70 percent of its alumni remaining and working within the central valley, CSUB supports ongoing social, cultural and economic development in the region and throughout California.
